ur Bananas

We have referred from time to time so persistently of the merits or demerits of the question of our Banana Industry that we may be considered burdensome by some of our Patrons, who may not see Banauas through the same (sometimes green, sometimes golden) eyes as we do; if there are any of these with whom we clash swords we can only ask the elemency of the moment and continue thinking of the prospects of our Banana in the foreign Markets and the chances of the resurrection of the Industry in beautiful Costa Rica.

We find in our foreign news that France is getting alive.

in beautiful Costa Rica.

We find in our foreign news that France is getting alive as to the taste of bananas both from an alimentarical as well as from an economical point of view and consequently she tool like England and Canada is supplying the necessary ships for transporting the bananas grown in her Tropical Colonies to find European Markets.

From an economical point of view and consequently the too hexengland and Canada is supplying the necessary ships for transporting the bananas grown in her Tropical Colonies to find European Markets.

And while we find fruit growers of the United States persistently trying to force a law through the Senate to place a heavy fax on Bananas entering the United States, we see a counteractant in the parliament of Canada whereby a Resolution has been unanimously adopted in the following terms.

"Whereby it is much to the Interest of Canadá, The Empire and the West Indies to effect a closer relationship be it resolved to introduce free of duty all products a fruits coming direct from crops of The British West Indies from this it can be inferred that all bananas grown in British Colonies will flock into Canadá and the United Kingdom, leaving a much wider market for our fruit in Europe and the United States.

Again we find Mr. Cutter as President of the U. F. Co. in his message before the Sharcholders emphasizing the progress made by operations in trade between the Latin American Countries and the United States, principally thro Bananas, Coffee etc. amounting now to about a quarter of her trade with the world, this being so, it is to be supposed that the United States would not be likely to place any prohibitive Tax on our Bananas going into the States just now expecially when as he says her exports to these countries of the Carribean amounted up to October of 1929 to $440,000,000 and her trade has increased with these countries from 300,000,000 in the year 1900; to more than..........$2000,000,000 for last year, therefore our markets appearing perfectly healthy. We will now turn to our internal prospects. The Banana Law has been abused, condemned and punished for all the evisit is has brought down upon us, now what can we do with it. From what we can gather we are perfectly cognizant of the fact that the Law will be made workable, that is, that it will be modified to meet the conditions that will satisfy the Company to Translated from La Tribuna of 8/3/30.

From one of the leaders of the Labouring Class of Limon we received the following unfavourable impressions as a consequence of the excess in immigration that is congesting that Port with unemployed.

The second of Says our informant, that the actual crisis is passing all over the country but is more heavily felt in our Port, in consequence of the extraordinary immigration of Jamaicans vivho arrive daily in greater quantities. Resulting that, the Negro Race has the fault, that the sons of the Soil are treated in such a hostile manner, because they invade every department of the Fruit when ye results of the second property of the property of nevecomer and Knovys nothing about conditions of the Life of Limon.

To say Jamaicans ure savarming here nove is much vanting in Truth (putting it as mildly as one can) they are ruther savarming out to more propitious fields, if that Leaderfor falsehoods, knew what he was talking about, he vouid what he was talking about, he would read to be considered as time-Keepers are brought here, by the Company at a time when Limon was not considered good enough for him to like in and they have been trained to occupy, the positions they now hold.

Would he considered it fair to disposesses them of that which they worked land for in Rains and Shine to positions they now hold.

Would he considered it fair to disposesses them of that which they worked lard for in Rains and Shine to repositions they may be considered to the considered of pitched to the considered of the calls himself while? No Mr. leader you must abide your time and prove jurised by honest sober application to duty that you shall merit what confidence is reposed in you.

Poor Nagro, one fellow feels he must not come out of the Tunnel, here again another feels he should not even be must not come out of the Tunnel, here again another feels he should not even be has helped to make lander the deep Blue.

These are matters which the thinks may may be the deep Blue.

These are matters vvhich the thinking men of the Negro Improvement Association should take up, and leave bickerings alone.
